Miss Laverne Andrews, Singer, Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Laverne Andrews, eldest of the singing Andrews Sisters, died Monday of cancer. She had been ill for eight months. She was 51.

Her sisters, Maxene and Patti, learned of the death while they were fulfilling a nightclub engagement at Lake Tahoe, 500 miles to the north.

Laverne's husband of 18 years, Lou Rogers, a wholesale liquor dealer, was at his wife's bedside in their West Los Angeles home when she died. They had no children.

Carrying on the group's 35-year performing tradition, the younger sisters had appeared without Laverne for nearly a year.

The sisters made almost 900 records—of which 60 million copies have been sold—since they became successful in the

Pine Bluff Case Reversed by Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Arkansas Supreme Court ruling that halted the distribution of eight magazines held to be obscene in Chancery Court at Pine Bluff three years ago was reversed Monday by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The high court stated in an unsigned decision that the justices agreed—for differing reasons—that there were no grounds for the obscenity judgment against Gent, Swank, Modern Man, Bachelor, Cavalcade, Gentleman, Act and Sir.

The 1961 Arkansas statute cited by the Pine Bluff court defines "obscene" as anything "that to the average person, applying to contemporary community standards the dominant theme of the material taken as a whole, appeals to prurient interest."

The U.S. Supreme Court decision said two justices believe a state is powerless to suppress publications on ground as vague as "obscenity." Others held that the state's authority is severely limited to a small amount of clearly identifiable material, it said.

Other standards cited in the decision are that material is not obscene unless it is completely without redeeming social value or because it "affronts contemporary community standards relating to the description or representation of sexual matters."

Justices John M. Harlan and Tom Clark criticized the majority decision and said they would have dismissed the Arkansas appeal on grounds that it presented no substantial question for a federal court to decide.

The Arkansas case was one of three in which the court reversed convictions involving the sale of material alleged to be obscene.

When the court agreed to hear the three appeals last year, it directed that arguments be limited to certain aspects of the case involving the manner of prosecution, but not the basic issue of whether the books and magazines were actually obscene.

Harlan and Clark said the court should not have gone beyond those issues by directly clearing the publications of the obscenity allegations.

Ruling Means Girl Pictures Not Obscene

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — Whatever may be the Supreme Court's going definition of obscenity—and there are about as many definitions as there are justices—Monday's ruling in this highly subjective area makes one thing clear: Girlie magazines are not obscene.

Undoubtedly this is cheering news for champions of First Amendment rights and for sellers of such spicy publications, just as it is displeasing to those who consider girlie magazines corrupting.

But perhaps equally significant is what the decision does not do: lay down a rule on whether retailers may be prosecuted under state obscenity laws when they claim they were largely unaware of a suspect publication's contents.

And the court's definition of obscenity is no clearer than it was in March 1966, the last time it delivered major pronouncements on the subject and upheld the conviction of Eros magazine publisher Ralph Ginzburg.

The convictions of Robert Redrup, a New York City newsstand operator who sold two racy paperbacks to a policeman, and of William Austin, who sold girlie magazines in his Paducah, Ky., bookstore, were thrown out Monday because a majority of the justices found their prosecutions in conflict with the First Amendment.

At least four different constitutional views of obscenity were presented in the unsigned opinion, but none was singled out as controlling in the Redrup and Austin cases.

Similarly, the court barred Arkansas from prohibiting circulation of eight girlie magazines, but the opinion trained no particular concept of obscenity on the Arkansas action.

Actually, when the court took on the cases more than a year ago it specifically refused to pass judgment on whether the magazines and the two paperbacks were legally obscene.

No Progress in Tariff Negotiations

By CARL HARTMAN
GENEVA (AP) — With time running out, pressure mounted today on Kennedy Round negotiators to reach agreement on lowering tariff barriers to world trade.

Representatives of the United States and the six European Common Market nations ended a crucial night session early today without progress. A neutral mediator said if no agreement was reached later today at an expanded meeting including key members of the 52 participating nations, there was little chance of accord by week's end. Agreement by the end of the week is considered vital because President Johnson's authority to cut American tariffs as much as 50 per cent expires June 30, and experts estimate that it will take at least six weeks to hammer the necessary accords into shape after the negotiators agree.

The stalemate could result in an emergency conference by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and foreign ministers of many of the 53 participating nations.

The key figures in the negotiations are William Roth, Johnson's special representative, and Jean Rey of Belgium, who represents the Common Market members—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Sitting in as a neutral mediator is Eric Wyndham White, head of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The chief issues are reduction of tariffs on chemicals, especially the high rates charged by the United States, and regulation of trade in grain, the largest single item in the human diet.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Koenigseder of Fort Smith announce the engagement of their daughter, Yvonne Eugenia, to Michale Darwin Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Darwin Jones of Mineral Springs, Arkansas. Michael is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. Berlin Jones of Patmos.

Miss Koenigseder, a graduate of St. Anne's Academy, is a senior of St. Edward Mercy Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Jones is a graduate of Mineral Springs, High School and the University of Arkansas with a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Engineering. He is working toward a Master's degree in Agricultural Engineering in Food Processing. He is a member of Alpha Epsilon, Tau Beta Pi and Alpha Kappa Lambda Fraternities.

The wedding will be solemnized on June 24th at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Fort Smith.

Actress Is Married in a Miniskirt

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Swedish-born actress Ann-Margret wore a miniskirt and tears streamed down her cheeks Monday as she married actor Roger Smith in a Las Vegas hotel suite.

The marriage was the second for Smith, 32, and the 26-year-old Ann-Margret's first.

Only two months ago they publicly broke their engagement, for reasons the actress would not disclose. Their reconciliation led directly to the altar.

The couple was unattended. Two hotel executives, Tony Zepi and Dick Chappel, witnessed the double-ring ceremony. Besides her miniskirt, Ann-Margret wore white net stockings, a pearl necklace and white low-heeled shoes with gold buckles. Smith wore a black chalk-stripe suit.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

What Price Beauty?

Skin deep or not, beauty is precious to most people. Both men and women, as a rule, are acutely conscious of their physical attractiveness—or lack of it.

So it is not surprising that people hurt in accidents often seek damages not just for injury to their limbs but also for injury to their looks.

Should that kind of compensation be awarded at all? The law's answer is yes. Even though a scar is not disabling in the same way as a limp or an ache, disfigurement can be a real and serious handicap.

The biggest problem lies in deciding how much the damages should be. How do you put a price on the harm done by a scar?

The courts generally take into account both the characteristics of the victim and the characteristics of the scar itself. Thus, in particular cases, the following factors have lent weight to a damage claim:

1) that the victim was a girl ("scars on the face of a female are ordinarily regarded as more objectionable than on the face of a male");

2) that the victim had a job (as an actor) in which appearance mattered a great deal;

3) that the scar had an unpleasant side effect (distorted a young man's smile).

On the other hand, damages will be less if the scar can be mended by simple plastic surgery—or if it is in a place where it would not ordinarily be seen.

What if the mere display of a scar to the jury would be shocking or indecent? That could improperly inflame the emotions of the jury. Such a display may be forbidden, usually at the discretion of the trial judge.

However, in most cases, the judge will rely on the jurors to draw fair conclusions from what they see.

In one case, involving an injury to a young woman's knee, the defense attorney objected to an inspection by the jury. He noted that the plaintiff was young, charming, and beautiful—and that the jurors were all men.

But the court overruled his objection, commenting: "She is entitled to resort to the same proofs that she might have resorted to if she had been aged, ugly, and repulsive."

FOR THE BOY WHO HAS EVERYTHING—A NEW PERSONALITY

Dear Helen: I have a disastrous problem. I can't win with the girls and I can't see why. I have a real classy car, the latest in expensive clothes. I smoke, flirt, am extremely handsome and well-groomed.

The girls should like me better than the other guys but they are all snobs. I only have two friends, and they are lazy bums and only hang for the ride.

What's wrong with people? I have money, looks, a car, what more could they ask for?—C.R.B.

Dear G: Would you believe—fewer commercials?—H.

Dear Helen: I'm in love with this girl who I write once a week and phone frequently. I don't see her often because we go to different schools. I've only had one date with her, but she seems to like me real well on the phone.

Trouble is she never writes except once in a blue moon. But this is really what fills the pie. My birthday was two weeks ago and she didn't even send me a 15-cent card. Helen, it's hard to love a telephone receiver, and she doesn't act the same when we meet. Does she like my voice but not me, or what?—BROKEN HEART

Dear B.H.: Maybe she's a talker, not a writer. And perhaps you both feel more at ease on the telephone than in person. Ask her for another date. If she accepts, she likes you. If she "doesn't act the same," it's because she's nervous. . . and probably wondering why YOU act so differently.

So relax and pretend there's a telephone between you—until you no longer need it.—H.

Dear Helen: I'm 17, married and have two children. I would like a divorce as I don't love my husband. I love someone else who is willing to take me and the two children.

Here's my problem. I understand that I can get an annulment if I'm not 18, but I'll have to be separated from my husband. And I can't live alone because I'm under 18. If I wait until I'm 18, a divorce will take me two years to get. I can't live with my folks. Please advise.—J.B.

Dear J: You need advice from an expert, and I suggest you call a lawyer or your Legal Aid Society. All I can tell you is the advice you have received so far is probably incorrect; don't count on an annulment simply because you're under 18.

Why not consult a marriage counselor instead? —H.

Dear Helen: Tell me honestly, Helen, do you believe in premarital interdiction? —RESEARCHER

Dear R: Sure: Holding hands is really quite proper.

. . . And next time you try to flummox an advice columnist, chum, pick one who doesn't have four wise-cracking kids. They clue me in on all the new expressions. —H.

PERSONAL TO WORRIED AND ASHAMED: Your father should realize he can't argue an alcoholic wife away from her bottle, but you and he together might PER-SUADE her to seek the help she desperately needs.

You, honey, won't feel nearly so alone if you write to Al-Anon Family Group Headquarters, Inc., P. O. Box 182, Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y., 10010, and ask to be put in touch with WORLD HELLO. This is a meeting-by-mail group designed for children of alcoholic parents. . . Cullen Leaves His Mark on Twins

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Young Tim Cullen, who left a legend in Saskatchewan with two mighty swings, has left his marks on Minnesota with one feeble flick of the wrists.

Cullen, Washington's rookie second baseman, delivered the key hit — a bloop double into short left field — during a six-run seventh-inning salvo that gave the surprising Senators a 7-4 victory over the Minnesota Twins Monday night.

"They should wipe the blood off the ball," the 24-year-old Californian said of his looping hit that sent two runs across the plate, giving the Senators a 5-3 lead en route to their eighth victory in the last 10 games.

"I'd have to say that's my biggest hit in the majors," added Cullen, who blasted two grand-slam homers in one inning five years ago while playing semipro ball in Saskatoon, Sask. "It was a good pitch — a fast ball high and tight. I was looking for it, but I didn't get around on it. I think I've got lazy hands."

Lazy hands or not, Cullen has stroked eight hits in 18 at-bats for a .444 mark while sharing second base with Bernie Allen and Bob Saverine during the Senators' climb to third place in the American League.

In Monday night's only other AL game, the California Angels edged the New York Yankees 3-2 on Rick Reichardt's tie-breaking single in the seventh inning. St. Louis nipped Pittsburgh 6-5 in 10 innings, Los Angeles topped Houston 4-2 and San Francisco mauled the Chicago Cubs 9-2 in National League play.

Washington trailed the Twins 3-1 when Frank Howard's single triggered the seventh inning uprising. Cap-Peterson's double knocked out Minnesota starter Jim Ollom and reliever Al Worthington walked Paul Casanova before yielding a tying two-run single by pinch hitter Jim King.

Cullen's two-run double off Jim Merritt, Hank Allen's sacrifice fly and a run-scoring error by shortstop Zolte Versailles completed the rally.

"We've had some timely hitting, but tonight is the first time we've really busted out," said Senators pilot Gil Hodges. "The fellows are playing the kind of baseball they're capable of playing. They are believing in themselves and that they can do the job."

California snapped a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning when Jim Fregosi, Jimmie Hall and Reichardt drilled singles off Yankee reliever Hal Reniff.

Hall's first-inning homer off starter Fred Talbot and a run-scoring single by Tom Satriano in the fourth gave the Angels a 2-1 edge, but New York pulled even in the fifth when Charlie Smith double and scored on a single by John Kennedy.

Talbot homered off California starter Nick Willhite in the third.

Maris Out of Slump, Cards Win

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Roger Maris, who once earned his Ph. D. in home run hitting, has started the learning process all over and now is one step closer to earning a promotion to first grade.

Maris, inserted into the St. Louis line-up as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning Monday night, rapped a run-scoring double with two out in the 10th inning, climaxing a three-run rally and giving the Cardinals a 6-5 victory over Pittsburgh.

It was one of the biggest of the 17 hits Maris has had this season, his first in the National League after 10 years in the American.

"This is like starting kindergarten all over again," the 32-year-old slugger said, thinking of everything he would have to learn about the new league after the New York Yankees traded him to St. Louis.

And as long as he was starting over again, Maris decided he'd like to do things differently.

"Maybe I'll destroy that home run image," said the man who experienced virtually nothing but trouble after hitting 61 homers in 1961. "All I want are base hits. I've got some good hitters like Orlando Cepeda, Tim McCarver and Mike Shannon behind me."

The left-hander hasn't hit any homers this season, but five doubles and one triple help make up his .270 batting average.

And he was right about the hitters he mentioned. Cepeda's single helped the Monday night's game 3-3 in the ninth, and Shannon and McCarver each singled across a run before Maris delivered his clutch double.

In other NL games, San Francisco whupped Chicago 9-2 and Los Angeles topped Houston 4-2. In the American League, Washington defeated Minnesota 7-4 and California nipped New York 3-2.

At the time, Maris' RBI appeared to be only an insurance run, but it proved decisive when pinch hitter Manny Jimenez socked a two-run double in the Pirates' half of the 10th. Larry Jaster prevented Pittsburgh from tying the game, coming on to get the last two outs.

Juan Marichal pitched a four-hitter for his fourth straight victory after three consecutive defeats at the start of the season. The San Francisco ace received support from Willie Mays, who hit a homer, and Tom Haller, who drove in three runs with two doubles and a single.

Ron Fairly was the big man for Los Angeles against Houston, knocking in three runs with a double and a pair of singles. He also curiously was thrown out at the plate twice trying to score.

Claude Osteen needed help from reliever Ron Perranoski for his fourth victory against one defeat.

Farrell Is Purchased by Phillies

HOUSTON (AP) — Fun-loving Dick Farrell is returning to the scene of some of his biggest thrills — on the field and off.

The veteran right-handed reliever was sent to the Philadelphia Phillies by the Houston Astros Monday in a straight cash transaction, some estimates placing the figure as high as $75,000.

It's a return home for Farrell, 33, who signed with the Phils in 1953 and was 10-2 for them in 1957 before being dealt to the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1961.

Farrell was involved in one of two deals by the Houston Astros Monday. The other sent catcher Bill Heath, who hit .301 in 55 games last year, to the Detroit Tigers' Toledo farm club in the International League for cash and a minor league player to be named before Oct. 2.

You don't expect a vet like Farrell to take a change in uniforms too hard, but he did.

"I didn't want to go any place — and not back to Philly," he said. "I've got a home in Houston. I've been here six years and made my home here six years. I knew something was going on, but when it happens you feel empty."

Farrell came to Houston in the National League expansion draft after the 1961 season. With his departure, only two original Colt 45s remain — infielders Bob Aspromonte and Bob Lillis.

Some 25,000 species of wild flowers grow in the United States.

Cody Stars as Whites Beat Reds

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Sophomore Tailback Russell Cody accounted for four of his team's five touchdowns here Monday as the Whites galloped to a 33-20 victory in the University of Arkansas' second Red-White intra-squad football game of the season.

Cody, who scored the only touchdown when the Whites won 7-3 at Little Rock last week, was the game's leading ground-gainer Monday. The 5-10, 180-pound Russellville redshirt picked up 120 yards on 18 carries and gathered in two passes for another 57.

He went over from seven yards out in the first period, scored on a 45-yard pass play in the second quarter and took the ball in for touchdowns on four and 47-yard runs in the third.

Fullback Glen Hockersmith scored for the Whites on a one-yard plunge in the second period.

Quarterback John Eichler passed for a two-point conversion after the TD pass to Cody in the second quarter, and Bob White, who worked for both teams, kicked the extra point after Cody's four-yard effort in the third. The other PAT attempts failed.

With 4:49 left in the half, Fullback Don Richardson went over left guard from two yards out to put the Reds on the scoreboard. The PAT was wide, leaving the score 20-6 at the half.

The Reds didn't score again until the fourth period. With 9:40 left, sophomore Tailback Mike Hendren scored from the one-yard line, and Quarterback Gordon Norwood ran left guard for the two-point conversion.

Fullback Richard Coleman gave the Reds their final tally with 59 seconds left in the game when he went in from the one.

Norwood's conversion pass was incomplete.

Hendren was the leading ground-gainer for the Reds, carrying 26 times for 85 of his team's 294 yards.

The Whites finished with 451 yards gained.

The game originally was scheduled for Friday, but was postponed because of rain.

Head Coach Frank Broyles left immediately after the game to attend a Bentonville, Ark., sports banquet honoring Buffalo Bills Halfback Bobby Burnett and his brother, New York Jets Rookie Tommy Burnett. Both are former Razorbacks.

Travelers Win With 13 Hits

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—The Arkansas Travelers launched a 13-hit attack that buried Dallas-Fort Worth 8-3 in a Texas League baseball game here Monday night.

Roy Majyka drove across five runs with two singles and a two-run double as rookie Ted Friel picked up the victory with five shutout innings and evened the series at one apiece.

Sal Campisi added three and two-thirds innings of one-hit relief after the Spurs scored three runs off Leo Newton in the sixth on Gene Ertter's two-run triple and an infield grounder.

Dean Burk, the loser, surrendered a solo homer to Biff Bracy, triples to Art Deras and Jim Williams, plus a double by Joe Hague in the first three innings.

In other Texas League action, Amarillo's Jim Ray stymied the Albuquerque Dodgers with a six-hit, 13-strikeout performance as the Sonics triumphed 9-1, and home runs by Walt Hrinkak and Adrian Garrett provided the big blows that powered the Braves to a five-hit, 6-4 victory over the El Paso Sun Kings.

El Paso now holds the league lead with a one-game edge on Amarillo. Albuquerque is four games out, Austin and Arkansas 4½ games and Dallas-Fort Worth seven.

Little Rock is at Dallas-Fort Worth tonight, while Albuquerque is at Amarillo at El Paso at Austin.

When we lose this esprit de corps Fordham will no longer be Fordham and Green Bay no longer will be Green Bay."

Listeners who know him only as the hard-to-crack stone face of the football locker room or the stern taskmaster on the field were given a rare insight into this complex 53-year-old man.

A few minutes earlier, Lombardi had been fielding questions in an open news conference, telling everybody that Jim Taylor, the veteran fullback who played out his option and became a free agent May 1, still would be welcome at Green Bay.

"The matter is unresolved," he said, fixing his interrogator with a stare. "It is up to Jimmy, Jimmy doesn't talk much. He never told me what he wants. We have made the same offer as last year."

On the Kansas City Chiefs, champions of the American Football League, Lombardi had the same comments he made on that January afternoon after his Packers had beaten the Chiefs in the Super Bowl.

"I still think Kansas City did not compare with the top teams in the NFL because they do not play in the same competition. They have fine football players but not enough of them."

The site of the next Super Bowl?—"I think it would be a good thing to move it around."

Will Green Bay win again?—"Green Bay will have a very representative team."

Will the pro merger work?—"Eventually, yes. There still are some things to be worked out, like television."

"I must give the credit to my father and mother; my wife and children; Fordham, which gave me a chance through football; St. Cecilia's, a high school in Englewood, N.J., where he first taught and coached; Red Blaik at West Point, the finest football teacher; the Mara family of the New York football Giants, and Green Bay."

The 600 students who had given him a rousing ovation listened while he spoke of an intangible thing called "spirit."

"Cardinal Spellman once told me I had put the Fordham spirit in Green Bay," said Lombardi. "Just what is spirit? Every year I try to think of a new word for it...mental toughness, or whatever you want."

"Last winter at the Super Bowl I called it something that I have been sorry about ever since. When those tough sports writers asked me what made the Packers click, I said 'love.' Now, you fellows know what kind of 'love' I meant. It was the kind that means loyalty, teamwork, respecting the dignity of another, spartanism with sacrifices. Heart power not hate power."

YEAR	AMOUNT
1971	$ 6,000
1972	6,000
1973	6,000
1974	7,000
1975	7,000
1976	8,000
1977	9,000
1978	10,000
1979	11,000
1980	12,000
1981	13,000
1982	14,000
1983	15,000
1984	16,000
1985	17,000
1986	18,000

For the payment of the bonds, the District will pledge its full faith, credit and resources and all of its revenues from whatever source derived that may now or hereafter legally be pledged, except the millage annually voted for current operation and maintenance and the payment of indebtedness evidenced by other bond issues, but including surpluses from continuing tax levies heretofore voted and pledged to secure any other bond issue, including, but not limited to the seven (7) mills pledged to an issue of school bonds of the District dated September 1, 1950; the six (6) mills pledged to an issue of school bonds of the District dated December 1, 1947; and, beginning with the year 1971, the eight (8) mills pledged to an issue of school bonds of the District dated February 1, 1966, subject to a prior pledge of said surpluses in favor of an issue of Construction School Bonds of the District dated June 1, 1966, and further including that part of the State Apportionment going to the District's Operating Fund.

The purchaser may name the Trustee and Paying Agent. All expenses of the issue, including the printing and trusteeding of the bonds, shall be paid by Smith, Williams, Friday & Bowen, Bond Counsel, Little Rock, Arkansas, upon whose approving opinion the bonds will be issued, will be paid by Stephens, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas, the fiscal agent. Supplemental coupons and dual coupons will not be permitted, but the bonds may be converted to a issue bearing a lower rate or rates of interest, with any conversion to be in accordance with the Universal Bond Values Tables, upon such terms that the District receive no less and pay no more than it would receive and pay if the bonds were not converted.

The conversion shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors of the District and of the Commissioner of Education of the State of Arkansas.

The bonds will be callable for payment prior to maturity in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest as follows: from surplus proceeds of building fund taxes and from any funds available for the call of all or any part of the bonds of this issue in connection with the call or refunding of all or any part of the bonds of the prior issues of the District (hereafter identified) on any interest paying date; from funds from any source on any interest paying date on and after June 1, 1971. In the event the District refunds or calls any bonds of the December 1, 1947 issue, the September 1, 1950 issue or the February 1, 1966 issue (called "prior issues") it shall call that proportionate amount of the bonds of this issue then outstanding that the total principal amount of the bonds of prior issues being called or refunded bears to the total principal amount of the bonds of prior issues outstanding immediately prior to such call or refunding; provided, however, that if the refunding of any of the prior issues leaves the continuing annual tax pledged to said issue unchanged and pledged to the refunding issue, it shall not be necessary to call any bonds of this issue by reason of the refunding of said issue but thereafter references in this paragraph to prior issues shall be construed to include the refunding issue in lieu of the refunded issue.

No bid of less than par and accrued interest will be entertained, and the award, if made, will be to the bidder whose bid results in the lowest net interest cost to the District (determined by computing the aggregate interest cost at the rate bid and deducting therefrom any premium bid).

The assessed valuation of all taxable property within the school district for the year 1967, the last assessment of record, is $10,283,375.

The bonds will be sold upon auction bids at 1:00 o'clock p.m., on the 17 day of May, 1967, in the office of the Superintendent of Schools. Each bidder will be required to file a certified or cashier's check in the amount of $3,500 on a bank that is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, payable to the District, to be kept as liquidated damages if the bidder is awarded the sale of the bonds and fails to complete the purchase. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned and the District will not pay interest on good faith checks. The District reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

For further information address the undersigned, or Stephens, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Shakeup in Nat'l Guard Planned

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Department of Defense is planning a National Guard realignment that will eliminate 15 combat divisions, the National Guard Association of Arkansas was told at its one-day meeting here Saturday.

Maj. Gen. Charles N. Wilson, adjutant general of the Arkansas guard, said in his annual report to the association that there had been no official announcement of the realignment, but that it was expected soon. He said he would discuss it later in the month with the National Guard Bureau in Washington.

Wilson, who replaced Maj. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger earlier this year as one of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's first state appointees, also expressed concern for a lack of officers in the Arkansas Guard. The state is short 190 officers, he said, most of them lieutenants. "The state is now below our priority aggregate strength of 7,719," Wilson said. "Over-all strength is 98 per cent of authorization, and one-third of this shortage is in the commissioned ranks."

More Money Sought for Red River

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee was urged Monday to increase from $22.2 million to $25.8 million the budget recommended by President Johnson for work on a Red River navigation channel.

Members of a big delegation from Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma told the subcommittee that $1.7 million — the largest portion of the requested increase — was needed for work on the lower 30 miles of the channel.

L. R. Matthias of Shreveport, executive vice president of the Red River Valley Association, said the first 30 miles of the proposed Red River Waterway was common to two proposals — one for the Overton Red River Waterway authorized by Congress in 1946 and the other for a section below Denison, Tex., suggested in a new interim report on navigation and bank stabilization.

While the new report hasn't been completed, Matthias said, the Army Engineers have a construction capability of $1.7 million for the work on the lower 30 miles.

"In addition to providing a substantial start on the navigation and bank stabilization program for the Red River, it would also provide beneficial aid to the Current, Black and Ouachita River navigation systems," Matthias said.

The delegation will repeat its testimony today for a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee. Projects for which the delegation asked funds, together with the budget figure where it is different, include:

Construction—De Queen Reservoir, Ark., $1 million; Dierks Reservoir, Ark., $70,000; Gilliam Reservoir, Ark., $1.8 million (budget $1.4 million); Garland City, Ark., $110,000; Manatee Bayou, Ark., $470,000; levees and bank stabilization below Denison Dam, Tex., $1 million (budget $600,000).

General investigations—Denison Reservoir, $100,000; Red River above Denison Dam, $25,000 (budget nothing); comprehensive study below Denison Dam, $281,000.

Operation and Maintenance—$2,245,000.

Hoffa Seeks New Trial for 4th Time

By JAY BOWLES

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — James R. Hoffa and his battery of lawyers go into U. S. District Court today seeking for a fourth time a new trial on his jury-tampering conviction.

Hoffa, 54, serving an eight-year sentence, was returned from prison for the hearing before U. S. District Judge Frank W. Wilson, who handed down his sentence in 1964.

This hearing, expected to be lengthy, is on the Teamsters Union president's fourth new trial motion, but it is his first return to court here since his conviction three years ago.

The earlier three motions were turned down without a hearing, although one of them — accusing the jury which convicted him of misconduct — still is on appeal before the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The current new-trial motion, filed Feb. 23, accuses the government of resorting to wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping to convict Hoffa and his codefendants of tampering with the jury which heard his 1962 conspiracy trial at Nashville, Tenn. That trial ended in a deadlocked jury.

The government has denied the charges, but said at a pre-trial conference April 21 that there would be a basis for a new trial if proven true.

Among the witnesses for Hoffa is Benjamin David Nichols of Heskell, Tenn., an electronics expert who said he installed wiretapping devices in Hoffa's quarters under the direction of Walter Sheridan, special assistant to then-U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sources reported that as many as 50 subpoenas had been issued by defense and government lawyers for prospective witnesses.

Hoffa began serving his eight-year sentence March 7 at the federal penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa., while his three codefendants, Thomas Ewing Parks and Ewing King of Nashville and Larry Campbell of Detroit, began three-year terms the same day at federal prisons in Texas and Minnesota.

All are expected to testify during the hearing.

Hoffa, placed behind bars for the first time only two months ago, was described as a "picture of nervousness" by photographers who observed his movements for an extended period Monday. He and his three codefendants will be housed in a second-floor cellblock at the Hamilton County jail while here.

The photographers, observing his movements through long-distance lens, said Hoffa continually paced back and forth before his barred cell windows, making notes and talking with his defense lawyers.

Russell Cave, the 9,000-year-old home of Stone Age man in Alabama, was dedicated as a United States national monument on May 7.

SPEEDING DONE ON FILM
WUPPERTAL, Germany (AP)
— Police here are now chasing traffic violators with motorcycles equipped with recording cameras operated from the handlebars.
The equipment, which is powered by the motorcycle's battery, focuses at a distance of 40 feet. A powerful electronic flash is built into the "pack" as well as a data-recording device which indicates the date, time and the speed of the offending vehicle.

Win at Bridge

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Lew Mathe of Los Angeles, the captain of this year's winning Vanderbilt team, is the best player on the Pacific Coast and possibly the best in the world. In 1962 he played with Ron von der Porten of San Francisco on the American team that finished second in the World's Championship. The partnership was revived very successfully for this event.

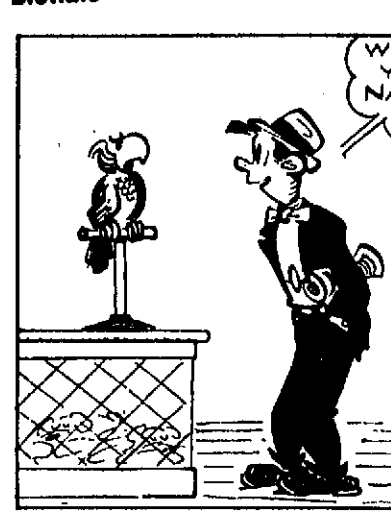

In today's hand Lew sat North and Ron was South. Playing at four spades Ron easily made an overtrick after hearts were opened and continued. He ruffed the second heart and led a trump to dummy's jack and East's ace. East played a third heart which Ron also ruffed. Then he cashed his queen of spades and ace of clubs, ruffed a club with dummy's seven, played the king of trumps and claimed the balance with diamonds.

All this play was easy enough and the bidding appears to be a cinch also but in the Vanderbilt competition a hand is played exactly twice. This hand came in the finals and at the other table North chose to bid three diamonds instead of doubling two hearts.

This North did not like to double because he could not stand a club response. Mathe could not stand a club response either but he doubled anyway because he was ready to go to diamonds in case his partner did bid clubs.

Once the other North bid three diamonds his side never found the spade suit. South raised to four diamonds and if North had gone to game there would have been no great loss but North was con-

Discover GI in Texas Has Bubonic Plague

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Public Health Service official confirmed today that a Vietnam veteran was hospitalized in Texas for 16 days last fall before doctors realized he was suffering from bubonic plague.

The victim, a 21-year-old serviceman on furlough, recovered with no further complications and there was no apparent spread of the disease, Dr. David J. Sencer said in a telephone interview from Atlanta. He is head of the National Communicable Disease Center there.

"There was an element of luck," Sencer said. "If the plague had progressed into pneumonic plague and gotten into his bloodstream with an infection of the lung, the chances of epidemic would have been great — because he'd be catching up phlegm."

Before doctors at Veterans Hospital in Dallas diagnosed the case, the youth had not been under any special quarantine or precautionary care, Sencer said.

Army officials announced curing the bubonic plague case — the first imported into the United States in 42 years — last Nov. 15, but did not mention then that the illness had not been diagnosed for more than two weeks.

Sencer revealed that delay in testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee. The testimony was released Monday.

After discussing five cases of plague that originated in the United States last year, the doctor said: "The sixth case is frightening. A furloughed serviceman from Vietnam, where plague is epidemic, was admitted to a hospital in a Western state — Texas, as a matter of fact, sir — and remained for 16 days before the disease was suspected."

"Slightly altered circumstances could have led to pneumonic plague — a true catastrophe, for pneumonic plague can spread into an epidemic, with person-to-person transmission."

The Army said the youth had been assigned to a group tearing down old rat-infested buildings in Vietnam. Fleas from infected rats apparently transmitted the disease. Hundreds of cases of plague or suspected plague have been reported among South Vietnamese.

In the interview, Sencer said the youth's illness originally was diagnosed as lymphadenitis, a swelling of lymph nodes from nonspecific infections.

The plague was not detected until a specialist was ordered to examine the youth, who had not been responding to treatment, Sencer said. After the diagnosis was confirmed, doctors at Veterans Hospital got excellent results with antibiotics and the

Nicklaus Just Wants to Improve

By RONALD THOMPSON
HOUSTON (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus, who's having the slowest start of his career on the golf tour this year, plays with one basic philosophy: "If I can't win, I don't care where I finish."

When Nicklaus shoots himself out of contention for victory, which has often been the case this year, his mind switches to the next stop, even though two rounds may remain.

"I start thinking about what I can do to win the next one; how I can improve," he said.

"After all, at the end of the year, it's how many firsts you soldier was transferred Oct. 4 to Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Tex.

Army officials later said the youth had been free of fever since Sept. 18, but it was not known when he entered the Dallas hospital for initial treatment.

Sencer credited two previous inoculations against plague which the youth had taken in Vietnam with preventing the progression of the disease from bubonic to pneumonic plague.

"You just don't think of plague these days in the United States," the doctor said.

had that really counts. "Don't get me wrong, though, I always play as well as I can," Nicklaus explained. "If you don't, you're letting your game slip. All I'm saying is that I play to win. If I don't win, whether I finish fifth or 25th makes me no difference."

What has happened to the 27-year-old Columbus, Ohio, miracle man who in less than six years as a professional has won over half a million dollars? All of a sudden, his name barely makes a dent in the weekly official money list.

Curious Visitor Pea Ridge Report Our Next Color

was working on the newspaper's operating report at 10 o'clock last Friday night on the telephone rang. The man on the line said he was from Little Rock and while stopping here he was up his car he had seen a process color photo of the Beatles in Friday's edition. "It's late," he said, "but I'm curious about how you do it. Could I see that famous Berkeley color separator?" "No I stopped what I was doing and invited him on a guided tour of our plant. His name was Rex Sutton, P.O. Box 224, Little Rock, a distributor of laundry and dry cleaning equipment. Before in the machinery business himself he had an aptitude for understanding how the Star puts its four-color test runs together. He showed him the Berkeley machine, and the Ektachrome transparency still being in the machine I flashed the original color picture on the easel—the turning point of which the print picture in the newspaper is the result. Half an hour later he was on his way home to Little Rock, and imagine Hope is getting some more word-of-mouth publicity around the state.

Editor The Star: Thanks for giving us the opportunity to see your first four-color pictures by the staff working alone on the Berkeley machine (Hot Springs Press races, April 28).

We have it suitably displayed and take pride in the fact that our daring venture was another "first" for Arkansas. However, after having read everything in the paper concerning the technicalities of such a process, we tend to feel like a woman up here in the hills years ago who had argued that a carriage just couldn't be run without horses. Finally she was shown a Model T putting down the road. She looked at it a bit, then said, "I tell you there just ain't no such a critter!"

So, even if we don't think it can be done, we add our congratulations to those of many others who are proud of you. Sincerely

I don't need to tell you how much we appreciate this word from the weekly press of Arkansas. It's the origin from which all newspapers have sprung. And we have reciprocated by passing along to them all our progress reports on the experimental work we are doing here. The Jines family saw the horse race pictures because every four-color edition of The Star goes out to all the weeklies and dailies of Arkansas, and all the advertising agencies and commercial printers of Little Rock and Shreveport—on a special mailing list of more than 300 free copies.

Our next four-color photo layout should be our best—a reprint in color of the White River float trip L. Carter Johnson and I made from Cotter to Buffalo City in August 1965. We printed it in black and white the fall of 1965, but the duplicate pictures in color had to wait until we installed our offset printing plant and the Norwegian-designed Berkeley color separator.

The White River float layout represents another advance in our experiments. It is seven columns wide carrying six pictures, marking the first time we have reproduced Kodachrome, the No. 1 color film, and the first time we have published color from the film format. All previous pictures have been taken from Ektachrome in the 4x5 size.

We had expected to make the White River color run this week. Mech. Stop. Billy Dan Jones asked postponement until next week because he needs to change blankets on the big press. The good printing is top maintenance of the press—so White River will have to wait until next week.

California Has Most War Deaths

By BOB HORTON
AP MILITARY WRITER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Under a newly computerized operation the Pentagon provided for the first time today a numerical breakdown of Vietnam combat deaths by states. California has lost the most men.

New York, Pennsylvania, Texas and Ohio follow in that order. All of the other 45 states, plus the District of Columbia, have given up sons. Men also are listed from Guam, West Germany, Mexico, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Canada and Peru.

A computer was fed key information on 7,823 servicemen who died by enemy hands between Jan. 1, 1961 and last March 1.

Of these, 683 listed their home of record as California. New York had 529, Pennsylvania 483, Texas 442 and Ohio 388.

Nine other states suffered 200 or more Vietnam combat fatalities: Illinois, 378; Michigan, 311; Florida, 287; New Jersey and North Carolina, 228 each; Indiana, 217; Tennessee 211; Massachusetts, 204, and Georgia, 200.

Thirteen other states had 100 or more combat dead.

Pentagon spokesmen explained that the vast majority of — but not all — servicemen give their birthplace as home of record, while others may list what they consider to be home, or the current address of primary next of kin.

The computer poured out a broad statistical picture of the men dying in Vietnam.

More men have perished on the battlefield, in sea operations or in air missions at the age of 20 than at any other age — a total of 1,331.

One 17-year-old was killed. A Pentagon directive issued in 1965 now prohibits assignment of 17-year-olds in the war zone.

By rank, 6,873 of the 7,823 combat deaths were enlisted men, 950 officers.

When fully operational later this week, the computer system will also be able to tell the major causes of American deaths in combat.

Some six million Americans suffer from sinus trouble.

Only 37 per cent of motorists say they "always" wear seat belts on trips of 25 miles or less from their homes. Yet it is within this radius that four out of five traffic accidents occur.

It has been estimated that one out of 19 U.S. citizens spends $50 a year on unnecessary vitamins or fadish health foods. On the other hand, a medical scientist warns that wives may lose a husband by giving him an inadequate breakfast: "The poor breakfast may lead to a higher divorce rate because it increases irritability."

Full Week of Musical Events During Nat'l Music Observance

The 18th annual Music Festival will be held at 7:30 tonight in Hammons Stadium under sponsorship of the Friday Music Club. A large chorus of elementary school students, directed by Mrs. Thomas Hays Jr., and the choir of both Junior and Senior High Schools will perform.

A special attraction this year will be the appearance of a stage band from Arkadelphia High School.

Also in connection with music week festivities the 4th Festival of Fine Arts sponsored by the music club and the Junior Auxiliary was open to the public Monday and Tuesday at the Youth Center. Mrs. Thomas Hays Jr. was in charge of arrangements.

Groups from music club visited the Lions Club Monday and the Kiwanis and they will be guests of the DAR luncheon on Wednesday. Mrs. Sam Strong, president, headed the group.

Each of the local nursing homes will be visited by musical groups during the week.

There will be a special program at the Junior High School Thursday and at 9:30 a.m. Friday a visiting band from Nederland, Texas will present the assembly program.

Mayor John B. Gardner urges all citizens to attend as many of these programs as possible.

Sunday's Hymn Festival, apart of the 44th celebration of Na-lunar Orbiter 4, in the desired orbit around the moon, will start Thursday taking pictures of the moon Thursday that are expected to be 10 times sharper than any taken with earth telescopes.

The 600-pound spacecraft, launched Thursday from Cape Kennedy, Fla., swung into the near-perfect orbit Monday after a braking rocket was fired for eight minutes.

The high point of the orbit is what scientists wanted — 3,789 miles above the moon's surface. The low point is 1,677 miles — just three miles off the predicted 1,647 miles.

Orbiter 4 is circling the moon roughly from pole to pole every 12 hours and one minute. Scientists say it will photograph 90 per cent of the surface.

Wants Mike for Nursing Homes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Nursing Home Association wants the full $30-a-month welfare increase that the state legislature approved for nursing home patients, but it's willing to settle for $20 a month for the time being, according to a resolution passed Thursday and released Monday.

The resolution, adopted by the association's executive board, said the smaller payments would be acceptable only if the association could continue to press for the full amount.

James P. Boyd Jr., a former administrative aide to the senator, said in Washington Monday that Morano was a director of the Conetta Manufacturing Co. Inc., of Greenwich, while working for Dodd on an annual government salary of about $5,000.

Boyd's testimony previously was instrumental in the ethics committee's recommendation that Dodd be censured by the Senate.

Boyd alleged that Morano, a former Connecticut Republican congressman, had used his position as Dodd's assistant in trying to get the Department of Defense to buy from Conetta a surplus of about 85,000 trigger assemblies for the Army's M14 rifle.

Anti-Poverty Riot Quelled in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — About 100 policemen, including two riot control squads, put down a shouting, pushing disturbance at a Brooklyn antipoverty meeting Monday night after a city fireman was dragged bodily from the hall.

Police minimized the incident involving about 2,000 persons, 75 per cent of them white and Puerto Rican and the remainder Negro.

"It seemed to be a matter of emotions getting the best of some people," said Inspector Thomas Reid, commander of the 10th Division. "There didn't appear to be any racial overtones."

According to police, the disorder came when Stanley Boyd, 37, a Negro city fireman, criticized the conduct of the meeting, called at Public School 288 in the Coney Island section to elect planning committees for the Community Development Corp. — an arm of the city's war on poverty.

While Boyd was speaking, police said, a group of unidentified men grabbed him and began dragging the fireman toward an exit. They said Boyd shouted, "Somebody hit me and I'm going to hit him."

At that point, a Negro fireman, August Rivera, knocking him down. When the crowd responded noisily, a call went out for reinforcements and 50 men from the riot-trained Tactical Patrol Force and the Brooklyn Borough office task force joined 50 officers originally assigned to the meeting.

Boyd was treated at a hospital for a cut lip, then was charged with disorderly conduct and simple assault on Rivera's complaint.

College Aid Seminar at Spring Hill

ARKADELPHIA—A community seminar on "College Financial Aid Programs" will be conducted at Spring Hill High School, Thursday, May 11, at 7:30 p.m. The program is designed to acquaint parents and students with all forms of financial assistance now available at the college level.

Topics to be discussed include: The National Defense Student Loan, the Educational Opportunity Grant, the Summer Work-Study Program, and part-time student jobs. Parents and students will have an opportunity to ask questions regarding these and other financial aid programs.

A member of the administrative staff of Henderson State College will direct the seminar. The program is part of a Community Service and Continuing project. All high school students who are interested in college aid programs are invited to attend. The seminar is being held in the evening to allow interested parents in the community to participate.

Day Camp Planned by Girl Scouts

Plans for a Girl Scout Day Camp May 29 through June 2 at Dyke Springs have been announced by Melvone Neighborhood Chairman, Mrs. Fred McElroy. LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Drummond Switzer, secretary to the state Highway Commission for 11 years, has resigned effective May 15 to become secretary to Y. W. Whelchel, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's aide on public safety.

Other Senior Scouts who will serve as Program Aides are Susan McCain, Junanne Reynolds, Jenny Tolson, Gail Tyler, Billy Morris, Ginny Gardner, Sharon Rogers, and Mindy McElroy.

Any interested adult who can contribute even a part of one day to helping with the program activities, especially with square dancing, please call Mrs. Fred McElroy, PR 7-3227.

Robert C. Erwin of Little Rock is chairman of the board, and Roger C. Mears Jr. of Little Rock is vice chairman. Other members are Ray Martin of Russellville, Ellis Boggs of Paris, C. R. Wasson of Searcy and Ivan F. Adler, Walter B. McAninch, E. F. Robinson and Homer L. Bailey, all of Little Rock.

Officers Arrest 36 in Buffalo, Dozen Are Members Cosa Nostra

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — City, state and federal authorities walked into a restaurant on the city's West Side Monday night and arrested 36 men, including a dozen identified in government hearings as members of the Cosa Nostra crime syndicate.

Investigators called the gathering a "Little Apalachin."

All were accused of consort with known criminals and were freed on the order of city court judges, pending arraignment today.

One of the men, police said, also was accused of second-degree assault in an attack on a policeman.

About 250 men were dining on roast beef and chicken in a first-floor banquet hall when 15 Buffalo detectives, 6 FBI agents and 2 members of the state Bureau of Criminal Investigation entered through an unlocked door.

Fifty others at the gathering, including those best known to police, were in a downstairs dining hall and slipped into a nearby liquor store, locking the door behind them, police said.

They were not discovered until early today.

Investigators said some of the more prominent figures included:

— Joe G. Raneaccio, 59, of Buffalo, reputed "underboss" to Stefano Magaddino, of nearby Lewiston. Magaddino, who has been identified at Senate crime hearings as a Cosa Nostra chief in western New York and the Ohio Valley, was not there.

James V. LaDuca, 55, of Lewiston, Magaddino's son-in-law and, police said, his representative at the gathering.

Joseph DiCarlo, 66, of Buffalo, who police said recently returned here from the Youngstown, Ohio, area.

Pasquale Matarelli, 56, of Buffalo, described as associated with Magaddino and DiCarlo.

Daniel G. Sansanesi, 32, of Buffalo, reputed gambling lord.

Joseph Fino, 52, and Nicholas Fino, 43, brothers from suburban West Seneca. Joseph was identified in 1963 as a section leader in the Buffalo Cosa Nostra. Nicholas has had at least 16 court appearances on gambling charges, police said, and drew a one-year sentence for possession of bookmaking records last year.

Roy Carlisi, 58, of Buffalo, who has been associated with various business ventures in the Buffalo, area, police said.

Police said several of those arrested, including LaDuca and Carlisi, were among 65 men picked up by state police in a raid Nov. 14, 1957, on the Apalachin, N.Y., home of the late Joseph Barbara during an alleged "crime convention."

Investigators said the two meetings had other similarities. In both cases, no weapons were found. Large sums of cash were found, however, as much as $6,000 today.

Police said many of the men tried to pay bail in cash.

Attacks Ruin Cong Airbase Near Hanoi

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — Five U.S. air attacks in two weeks have put the Hoa Lac MIG air base 20 miles west of Hanoi out of action, the U.S. Command announced today.

A spokesman said there was no evidence of MIG activity on the field when nine flights of U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs from Thailand plastered the field Monday for the fifth time since April 24.

U.S. planes flew 121 missions over North Vietnam Monday, and one Thunderchief was shot down, the spokesman said. The pilot was listed as missing in action. There was no indication whether the plane was lost during the raid on the Hoa Lac field.

The Thunderchief was the 535th U.S. combat plane reported lost to hostile action over North Vietnam.

While the air war in the North increased in fury, U.S. B52 bombers blasted Communist positions within and below the demilitarized zone Monday night in a continuing campaign to ease the pressure on U.S. Marines and allied forces in the northernmost sector of South Vietnam.

"I would say the field at Hoa Lac is no longer operable," a U.S. spokesman said.

Air Force reports of Monday's raid said both ends of the hard-surface runway were pockmarked by 1,000-pound bombs, the center of the runway was blasted and the antiaircraft sites and sandbagged MIG revetments heavily raked by shattering cluster bombs.

There are four big MIG bases in the Hanoi-Haiphong area. In addition to the Hoa Lac base, the base at Kep has been hit twice but the other two have not been attacked.

While the Air Force was blasting the MIG field, Navy pilots from the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise hit a naval supply area choked with barges 20 miles northeast of Haiphong. The pilots said they touched off a large oil fire.

Despite a continuing overcast, other pilots ranged south to the 17th Parallel dividing Vietnam to hit supply routes, trucks, barges and other targets.
